MANY RESOLUTIONS BY CONVENTION OF AMERICAN LEGION

(By Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—Resolutions urging world agreement among the nations on armaments and recommending the promotion of chemical industries within the United States as a step in preparedness, also including a recommendation that when property held by the government be used to settle claims against Germany, were ready for presentation to the national convention of the American Legion today.

Other resolutions to be submitted demanded that every effort be made to bring about the return to America of Grover Bergdoll, draft evader, and expressed opposition to the release of Debs.

Reports last night that the committee had passed favorably on a resolution criticizing the president and congress for delay in passing legislation providing for federal compensation, proved groundless when the text was made public today.

Points touched on in other resolutions were: Commending the publication of slacker lists by the government; favoring memorialization of highways, streets, parks and so forth; a more reverent observance of Memorial day; pledging support to the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis association.

Amid cheers the national convention of the American Legion adopted the legislative committee's report reaffirming the stand on the question of immediate federal aid for veterans and calling for government action on the adjusted compensation program "without further equivocation or delay." The resolution was presented by J. S. Scrugham of Nevada.

The convention rejected a report of the resolutions committee centering Colonel George Harvey, ambassador to Great Britain, declaring him unfit to hold office in the American government. The vote was 576 to 444, with 50 not voting. It adopted a substitute couched in less caustic terms.

The committee report on compensation as adopted urged immediate enactment of federal compensation for discharged soldiers, stated the Legion, and "deplores the request of President Harding to delay passage by congress of a measure providing for the same and the acquiescence of congress in that respect." The convention loudly cheered the resolution extending "greetings" to the former commander-in-chief of the American army and navy, and wishing him a speedy and complete recovery from the illness incurred in the service of his country. When presented by the committee there were shouts of "Wilson, Wilson."

GERMAN WOMEN SEEK HUSBANDS MOST ANY KIND

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The numerous matrimonial bureaus of Berlin, where a spouse may be had for the payment of 10 marks registration fee, are doing a rushing business. The advertising columns of the newspapers are being utilized, "prospects" are being bombarded with letters and circulars extolling the advantages and virtues of the several bureaus.

The marriage literature makes its principal appeal to the "home-loving" instinct of men, who are in greater demand in the marriage market than women.

The press agents, however, are not always discriminating or discreet in the selection of "eligible males." One bureau sent a letter to a married man with a large family urging him to "marry happily; don't select your acquaintances at random from the streets; send us your photograph and 10 marks and we'll find you a good wife."

Most of the marriages arranged through the matrimonial bureaus are of women more or less advanced in years, and of doubtful physical attraction, but with substantial bank accounts, and young men out of work or weary of working, said the agent of a bureau. The financial arrangements are agreed upon before the marriage.

One young man who accepted a much older woman as a wife after she had assured him she had money to support them, brought suit for divorce alleging he had been deceived and that the woman really had very little money. The woman admitted she had misrepresented her income, but declared she felt justified because of the lonely life she had been living, with no opportunity to become acquainted with marriageable men.
